

God keeps His promises to Abraham.

Genesis 12:1-7; 15:1-7; 18:1-19; 21:1-7

God keeps His promises to Abraham.

God had promised to lead Abraham and his family to a new land to live. And God kept His promise! One night in the new land, God made another promise. God told Abraham he would have many, many grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Sarah and Abraham didn't even have one child yet! And they were old! But God told Abraham, "You will have a son. And from him there will come more grandchildren than you can imagine! Look at the stars. Can you count them? You'll have more grandchildren than there are stars in the sky!" Abraham believed God would keep His promise.

More years went by. Abraham and Sarah grew older. They still didn't have a baby. But one day, three very important visitors came to Abraham's tent. One of the visitors was really God. The visitors told Abraham that in a year, he and Sarah would have a son.

And exactly at the time God had promised, Abraham and Sarah had a baby boy! God had kept His promise to Abraham again!
