Bible Story

God's Promise to Noah: Read With Me Bible -- Pages 30-35

Reference: Genesis 6:1-7:9

The waters flooded the earth for 150 days. But God showed concern for Noah and all of the animals in the ark. God sent a wind over the earth. And the water began to go down. The ark came to rest on the mountains. After 40 days Noah opened the window. Noah sent a raven out. It kept flying back and forth. Then Noah sent a dove out. The dove couldn't find any place to put its feet down. So the dove returned to Noah. Noah waited seven more days. He sent the dove out again. The dove returned to him. There in its beak was a fresh olive leaf! Noah waited seven more days. He sent the dove out again. But that time it didn't return to him. Noah and his family came out of the ark. All of the animals came out of the ark. So did all of the birds. God said, "I will never destroy all living things again. As long as the earth lasts, there will always be a time to plant and a time to gather crops. There will always be cold and heat. There will always be summer and winter, day and night. I have put my rainbow in the clouds. It will be the sign of the covenant between me and the earth."
